Forty Holloway and John Parker were fishing the first of the week. They had to work double shifts to get the fish they caught. After getting in three Ford-loads they quit because the roads being too muddy to make time on.

According to the report of the Bureau of the Census there had been a crop of cotton, 2,129,455 bales compared with 4,148,399 bales for 1921. The figures for Medina county were 3,218 for 1921 and 4,312 for 1922.

The report reached Hondo Tuesday that a miniature cyclone had struck the Tehuacana section this morning last Monday, late in the afternoon. The barn of Jack Senne was reported to have suffered damage, while the vehicles of Senne were rolled down into a ditch near the house, but were not injured. Hail fell on the Senne and Hartman places, but the corn was still small no material damage was suffered. In fact, we are glad that the heavy rains in that section did immensely more benefit to the hail did damage.

The mystery of the two blood pools on the road some two hundred yards beyond the grave yard, mentioned in the Anvil Herald some two weeks ago, has been solved. Sid Carls and Barnitz Carls were bringing a pig into town in a truck; the pig accidentally fell or jumped out of the truck, suffering a broken neck as a result of the fall. The truck then cut the hog's throat to the nose and the blood from the throat and throat accounted for the two pools. As we have heard of a missing hog in that section we think it a fair presumption that the dead swine was the one giving us the information was not specific as to this detail.

Mrs. Robt. Groff of the Sturm Hill section was carried to a hospital in San Antonio last Saturday where she underwent an operation for appendicitis. She was accompanied to the hospital by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Schuchle. Late reports from the hospital are to the effect that Mrs. Groff is making a good recovery and will soon be ready to leave the hospital.

Those having our road improvement work in charge were very much gratified with the way their ditches carried off the water after the heavy rains this week. They claim that where the drains had been constructed all storm waters had been taken care of perfectly, and confidently predict that when the system as planned is completed this town will be as dry of water as the Volstead act has made it of other liquids.

The rain that visited Hondo this week caused astonishment to fowls as well as children who could hardly remember seeing water on the ground. An old blue goose that ranges in the vicinity of the Anvil Herald office afforded some amusement to the passersby. Naturalists give the goose an average age of about 90 years, and this particular goose has probably passed the meridian of life. A lake of water was a new sight to this amphibious fowl and she viewed it with a great deal of suspicion. But being somewhat of an investigating disposition she waded cautiously into it and when she found out she could still swim, oh, boy! what ecstasies. No boy who had just mastered his first strokes could any way equal this old goose when she found the art of swimming was still one of her accomplishments. She dived, threw water over her back, flapped her wings, and in every way she could showed her extreme joy. For the sake of this old goose let us hope that the next rain will not be so long delayed that she will doubt her ability to swim when it does come.

THE RAIN.

Everything comes to those who wait—even rain to the people of West Texas. After a several days' preparation old Jupiter Pluvius sent us a sample shower last Saturday, kind of a warning to get ready for what was to come. Sunday was less threatening. Monday, late in the afternoon, a good shower fell, and Tuesday people were wondering what would be the outcome of the inclement spell. Wednesday old Jupiter Pluvius, probably thinking he had given our people long enough to get ready, commenced business in a very energetic way and Thursday when Judge Haass, the weather observer, got through adding up the different showers it was found we had a total precipitation for the spell of 3.94 inches. Farms and ranches got a good soaking, water holes were filled up and the people's faces were as bright as the sun that chased the mist away Thursday. Even the chronic pessimist admits that prospects were never brighter at this time of the year and the general prediction is a revival of business which has been some slack for some time on account of our dry spell. Of course, more rain will be needed for the farms and ranches, but with the season now in the ground prospects for a successful year are immensely enhanced. The rain seems to have been general over the state, and its value in dollars and cents would be difficult to estimate.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Powers of Austin were in Hondo Wednesday. Mr. Powers is a traveling man and Mrs. Powers, who is a stenographer in the office of the State Department of Agriculture, intended spending her vacation with her husband on an automobile trip west. Being overtaken here by the rain and fearing the muddy roads, they left their car here, Mrs. Powers returning to Austin and Mr. Powers continuing his trip west by rail. It was a pleasure to the editor to meet one of his former associates in the State Department of Agriculture and to hear directly of the welfare of others there.

Messrs J. G. Newton, Paul Richter, Guido Richter, Robert Reitzer, Geo. H. Kimmey, R. A. Carter and L. J. Van Fleet went to Uvalde Monday afternoon to attend a meeting of the Uvalde Lodge of I. O. O. F. They report a pleasant visit with their Uvalde brethren and say the order is making substantial progress in our neighbor city. Six young men were given the initiatory degree at the meeting attended.

Julius Brucks was in town from the Quihi community Monday. He says they only had a sample of rain last Saturday, and as they liked it they put in an order for a real rain. They got it Wednesday—some two or three inches—and seeding will be the order of the day for some time to come.

Max Edwin of San Antonio was here Thursday and closed a contract for the rent of the Frerichs building formerly used as a pool hall and expects to open up a dry goods and clothing business about the 15th of next month. We hope Mr. Edwin will meet with that full measure of financial success for which he hopes and plans.

TO JUDGE LITERARY CONTESTS

That the judging in the literary contests at the county interscholastic meet, April 7 and 8 will be absolutely impartial is assured by the selection of outside judges to pass on the tests. Prof. W. J. Knox, assistant superintendent of the San Antonio public schools, has consented to provide a committee of three, he being one of the number, to make awards. In a communication County Superintendent Saathoff Prof. Knox, with his committee has promised to be here on the above date.

This, it occurs to us, is a good move. It will silence all criticism as to partiality which people are prone to make in contests of this nature. The committee will be strangers to every contestant and will render their awards only on the merit closed by each contestant. This as it should be and we believe will prove agreeable to everyone taking part in the different events.

This committee will have no voice in the athletic feature of the program.

ENDORSES OUR EDITORIAL.

Editor of Anvil Herald,
Hondo, Texas.
Dear Sir:

Allow me to congratulate you upon your article in the last issue of your paper, in which you state that you have declined to publish a piece of propaganda in favor of the Towner-Sterling bill, now before Congress and formerly known as the Smith-Towner bill. Permit me to state briefly why I heartily agree with you in considering the provisions of this bill objectionable.

This bill would create a Department of Education with a secretary of Education who would be a member of the President's Cabinet. It would appropriate $100,000,000.00 a year to be distributed from that Federal office to the States under certain conditions. The passage of such a bill should be opposed for the following reasons:

1. It violates the rights of the states in educational matters.
2. It creates another political job with accompanying bureaucracy.
3. It provides no revenue, but the taxes from the people will have to be handled from Washington, returned to the states according to the discretion of the Department, after considerable expenses have been incurred (out of taxes, of course) for the support of the said Department and accessories.

4. It will diminish the interest and efforts of the states for education, since Washington will be looking kindly (?) after the matter.

5. It will likely be an unjust distribution; the states in the fold of the party in power and the states where illiteracy is greater having better claim upon that Federal help.

6. In case of conflict between a state and the Department of Education, the latter will have authority in deciding about granting or withholding the state's apportionment.

7. It is supposed to unify the system of education in the U. S. in imitation of European countries, but let us remember America has grown to be the best and first country of the world, precisely by avoiding aping
the governments of other lands.

8. The passage of that bill would present a parallel, on a greater scale,
of the injustice done in our own state,
as pointed out by the League for Equal and Uniform Taxation.

9. It would centralize authority to the detriment of the states, and an unlimited bureaucracy towards which we are unfortunately drifting is as dangerous as an absolute monarchy.
Of course, Congress has found it objectionable, as it has not passed it since it was first proposed in 1918.
A great number of the greatest educators in the land are against it, as the presidents of the Universities of Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Columbia,
Illinois, etc. Vice-President Marshall says "it will be boisevistic." Dr.
W. S. Sutton of the University of Texas says "it would be expensive, harmful and unconstitutional."

Nevertheless, as suggested by that "attractive copy," there are some influences making a strong propaganda
in favor of this Federal Education bill, and it is well to beware. Eternal vigilance is the price of the freedom of education as well as of other American liberties.

Respectfully yours,
A Subscriber.

A. J. DURHAM VISITS HONDO.

A. J. Durham, candidate for Representative, 77th District, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, was a visitor to Hondo Saturday. The following is part of Mr. Durham's platform, on which he is making his race:

Taxation shall be equal and uniform, says our Constitution, and yet 97 counties assess their properties at less than 25 per cent of their values, thereby escaping Four Million dollars
of the tax burdens, and these counties receive many thousand MORE of School revenue than they PAY INTO
THAT FUND.

155 counties pay $4,000,000 MORE than their rightful share of taxes, and receive back from School revenue
many thousands LESS than they pay into that fund.

Twenty-one counties, after paying all their State taxes, receive back from School revenue alone every dollar they paid into the State treasury plus a bonus of $768,000. Thirteen rich counties were short in School revenue for 1921, $580,000. Making a total deficit for the 97 counties of School revenue of about $2,000,- 000. This shortage must be made up by other counties and Medina county's share was $15,222. Uvalde's $12,- 357, Zavalia's $13,156 and Dimmit's
$8,416, in 1920, these counties having paid into the State School fund
that much MORE than they received.

I favor a definite standard on taxable values, throughout the State.

I am opposed to penalizing a man
10 per cent who cannot pay his taxes by the 31st of January. Let us make it 1 per cent per month for six months, then add the penalty if necessary, and those who can pay in November and December allow them
a small discount.

I stand squarely with the "Farm Bloc" in the U. S. Senate.

I will be glad to help Governor Neff redeem his campaign pledge to materially reduce the expense of RUNNING THE STATE GOVERN-MENT.

I heartily FAVOR A STATE PARK

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Hondo people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Thos. McCall, carpenter, of Hondo endorsed Doan's four years ago and again confirms the story.
Could you ask for more convincing testimony?

"I came down with an attack of kidney trouble," says Mr. McCall.
I had such a severe pain in my back
I could hardly stoop or lift. My back pained all the time and made it difficult for me to do my work. I had heard Doan's Kidney Pills highly spoken of so I bought some at Wind-row's Drug Store. Doan's helped me right away and two boxes removed the trouble."

Mr. McCall gave the above statement May 29, 1915 and on May 5,
1919, he added: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills a few times for a slight backache since they cured me four years ago. I think just as much of Doan's as ever."

INTERSCHOLASTIC LEAGUE.

Austin, Texas, March 30.—Great interest and enthusiasm is being manifested at this time in the county
meets of the University Interscholastic League. During the latter part of March and the first of April these county meets are being held in some one hundred and ninety counties of Texas.

Organized at the State Teachers
meeting at Abilene in December, 1910, by Dr. E. D. Shurter of the public speaking department of the University of Texas, the Interscholastic League has grown from a membership of 28 schools in 1911 to a total of 4,025 schools in 1921, with some 1500 teacher-officers. It has excited the attention and commendation of educators all over the country, particularly with reference to its work among the rural schools. A paper in one town recently issued a special 20-page Interscholastic League Meet edition.

In the various local, county, district and state contests held in debate, declamation, essay writing, spelling and athletics, the Interscholastic League comes in direct contact with approximately one million citizens in various parts of the state.

The underlying purpose of the League, as stated in its Constitution,
is training the pupils in the schools for citizenship. Subjects in this field are prescribed for the debate, declamation and essay writing contests. It has been conservatively estimated that the League this year is sending out no less than 40,000 speakers and writers from Texas schools on behalf of a better citizenship.

It is practically the unanimous opinion of educators in Texas that the University Scholastic League is the most influential single factor that has been developed for stimulating training for citizenship by and among the future citizens now in the schools of the state.

JUDGE GEORGE HAY CAME HERE IN 1854.

From the Bandera New Era.

The subject of this sketch was born at Erskine, Renfrewshire, Scotland, March 17th, just a few weeks before Texas succeeded in casting off the Mexican yoke of oppression. With his parents he sailed for America from Liverpool, England, September 10, 1841. They came across in a sailing vessel, the Tierien, and landed at New Orleans October 19, 1841, from whence they went up the Mississippi to St. Louis, where they tarried but a short time, then proceeded to Nauvoo, the Mormon city in Illinois. They remained at Nauvoo until 1845, when the family went back to St. Louis, where the elder Hay died, and in the fall following the widow with her children moved to Keokuk, Iowa, later moving to Clark county in that state. In September 1848, hearing of the wonderful opportunities in Texas, and seeking a land free from the antagonism at that time directed against the Mormons, the family started for Texas in wagons drawn by mules. A long trip was ahead of them, and the way was beset with all sorts of dangers and perils, but fearlessly the little band took up the journey, among the party being the mother, brother sister and uncle of George Hay, who was then a small boy about twelve years old. When the party reached Kansas City, then a town no larger than Bandera, they were joined by a family named Johnson, and a man named Spencer Smith, of Council Bluffs, Iowa. Their destination was Zodiac, a Mormon settlement in Gillespie county on the Pedernales river, three miles below Fredericksburg, which they reached safely after nearly three months on the road. Here

JUDGE GEORGE HAY

Bandera Pioneer (Courtesy Bandera New Era.) For the above cut and the accompanying biographical sketch we are indebted to the recent special edition of the Bandera New Era. Judge Hay was for ten years a citizen of Hondo, but the lure of the hills took him back to his former haunts at Bandera. We are sure his many friends among this paper's readers will peruse this sketch with much pleasure.

the Hay family remained until 1850. A Mormon settlement had been made near Fort Grogan in Burnet county, where a mill was erected, and the place was afterwards known as Mormon Hills. Mrs. Hay and her children moved there, where they tarried until the spring of 1853, when they moved over to the Packsaddle Mountain vicinity to graze their cattle. In company with a large party of Mormons, headed by Elder Lyman Wight, they decided to transfer their location to Bandera county, reaching Camp Verde Creek in the early part of 1854, coming on to Bandera March 1 of that year. Elder Wight's company numbered about 250 souls, and when they arrived here they found only a very few families here, the Hadrians, Milsteads, T. L. Odem, P. D. Saner, Mrs. Rees and sons, Charles de Montel, and others.

In speaking of his arrival in Bandera, and subsequent events, Judge Hay said: "This was a beautiful country then, a wilderness, it is true, but inviting and offering our people wonderful possibilities. Charles de Montel had a horse-power saw mill, with a circular saw, and the men of the community were nearly all employed in getting out cypress timber and working at the mill. August Pingenot supplied the camp, for Bandera was but a camp then, with game. Here I met Amasa Clark, who was in the employ of Milstead. This was in 1854, and the friendship that was formed then has endured to this good day, and grows with the passing years. Here I also met DeWitt Burney, an uncle to our present district Judge. August Klappenbach kept the commissary for Mr. Montel. Klappenbach afterwards built the first house in Bandera where he kept a store and postoffice. This house is still standing and forms one end of my residence. It was built in 1855, and was constructed of cypress lumber sawed at the mill here, the carpenter work being done by John Dugos, the father of Kasper and Christian Dugos, worthy citizens of our town. The elder Dugos had just arrived from Poland with the Polish colonists, and could not speak English, and had to receive his instructions as to dimensions and plan of the building in the sign language. If I remember rightly the Polish colonists arrived here February 3, 1855, and as they were destitute, they had a hard struggle for a number of years but perseverance and the realization that they were living in free America helped to get them on a footing which they have since maintained.

After remaining here until the fall of 1854, Elder Wight and his company moved down the river about twelve miles where they established a settlement, known for many years as the Mormon Camp, where they remained until 1858. Elder Lyman Wight died and was buried there. The site of this camp is now covered by the waters of Medina Lake. With their leader dead, the Mormons then scattered, some going to the Indian Territory, and several families remained here, among those who chose to remain in this section being Andrew Hoffman, Mrs. Janet Ballentyne, Abraham Moncur, Joseph Goodale, Meachem Curtis, and others whose names I can't recall just now. Today, about all of them are gone except my wife and myself.

"Bandera county was organized in 1856. O. B. Miles was the first chief justice, William Curtis was sheriff, James P. P. Poole was the first county clerk. The first term of court was held in a building in the western part of town which was used as a school house. I was deputy clerk under Poole, but did not have very much to do. Afterwards I was elected county clerk and served for several terms. Finally I decided that I did not want the office and hustled like everything to elect my successor, P. D. Saner. I also served several terms as assessor and collector, and am now serving as justice of the peace for Bandera precinct.

"In the fall of 1869 I became associated with James Booker Davenport in the mercantile business in the house now occupied as a dwelling by Sheriff Henry Stephens. Later Mr. Charles Schmidtke, Sr., came into the firm, and it became known as Davenport, Schmidtke and Hay. Our business thrived, but later Mr. Davenport retired and Schmidtke and Hay conducted the business until 1874, when H. H. Carmichael bought an interest in the firm and we erected the stone building now used as a warehouse by the Bandera County Ranchmen and Farmers Association. Mr. Schmidtke retired from the firm and Carmichael and Hay continued until 1903, when we met with reverses, and almost in a twinkling the crash came and we were swept off our feet. Mr. Carmichael died here in 1913. Later I moved to Hondo, where I lived for ten years and engaged in the confectionery business there.

"In 1861, when the Civil War came on, almost every man between the ages of 18 and 45 were enrolled in the Frontier Battalion for Frontier protection. I was commissioned a lieutenant, but being an officer made no difference to me. I went into the ranks, stood guard and performed all the duties of a private. I have never received a cent for my services and none of my comrades ever received a cent of pay. We had to furnish ourselves too. Some ammunition was supplied, but it was of such poor quality as to be almost worthless. The Indians often made raids down into this settlement and below here, and we would take their trail, sometimes inflicting severe punishment on the red rascals. There are many thrilling incidents connected with the history of this county. Many tragedies have taken place, many hardships were endured by the first settlers, many of the old timers have passed over the great divide to return no more, many of our sons have won high places in the world, many of our daughters have married and raised manly sons and lovely daughters who are today filling places of usefulness in different parts of the country. I am proud that I can look back upon the sixty-seven years that I have spent here and realize the wonderful changes that have taken place, all for the betterment of mankind and the glory of American manhood and womanhood that brought these things to pass."

Judge Hay is now 86 years old. He is quite active and discharges the duties of justice of the peace in an acceptable manner. His mind is very clear, and he recalls dates and events with the precision of a much younger man. He has ten children living, 41 grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren. His living children are: Mrs. Amanda Elam, George A. Hay, Mrs. Georgiana Risinger, Frank T. Hay, Mrs. Mary Langford, of Bandera, Charles William Hay of Colingua, California, Joe M. Hay of Hondo, Texas, Mrs. Olo Croisdale of Austin, John Hay of San Antonio, Mrs. Janet Currie of Los Angeles, California. Another daughter, Mrs. Ora Smith, died in California during

By
The Editor.

The tragic death of Congressman Lucian W. Parrish at Wichita Falls Monday night, as a result of injuries sustained in an automobile accident on the night of March 15th, will throw a pall of sadness over Texas political circles. Mr. Parrish was a member of Congress from the 13th Texas District and one of the most active aspirants for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator.

The attitude of the public mind towards the enforcement of the 18th Amendment is something strange to contemplate in a land that is supposed to be ruled and governed by law and order. We have no apology to make for our belief that the whole thing is a stupid and expensive blunder. It is in principle a visionary, impracticable dream of enthusiasts foisted upon the people in a time of national hysteria, while emotional elements ruled and sober reason was disorganized and dethroned, and we were not surprised at many of the lapses in respect for and obedience to it on the part of men who either advocated or silently acquiesced in it. But we were not prepared for the latest developments along this line. The government has spent and is preparing to spend millions more of dollars and has sacrificed numerous lives in the effort to enforce this legal monstrosity. But now comes certain newspapers, circulating under the second class mailing privilege of this same government, openly advertising the paraphernalia with which to manufacture home brew. One advertisement had the effrontery to offer to furnish not only the formula for making it, but how to artificially age it. Think of the nerve of it! Where will such a course finally land the country? That way lies madness, anarchy, ruin. It is not incumbent upon any of us to approve the spirit of an unwise law or acquiesce in doubtful means either of its adoption or enforcement, but it is incumbent upon all to obey it while it is the law. Safety can lie in no other course.

Hon. V. N. Fulger, who has announced his candidacy for re-election to the Legislature from Harrison county, says he intends to introduce a bill requiring all officers, State and County, to take an additional oath to the effect that they do not belong to any organization which seeks to administer the law and mete out justice through any other means than the courts of our country. He further proposes to introduce a measure to impose a heavy fine upon any person who appears in public with a mask on his face and refuses to remove such mask and identify himself when ordered to do so by any peace officer. Good for Mr. Fulger. Of course, there is not only sufficient law already to cover his latter proposition but to justify the private citizen in shooting down anyone offending as the influenza epidemic and was brought home for burial.

Judge Hay is spending his declining years at the old family homestead in this city, where for many years he and his good wife kept open house to the traveling public, and entertained many distinguished visitors under their hospitable roof.

Mrs. Hay, before her marriage, was Miss Virginia Minear. She is a native Texan, having been born in Fannin County near Bonham, March 25, 1884. She came to Bandera county when about eight years old with her widowed mother. Her father was murdered in Coryell county, where he had taken up a homestead. The burden of years rests lightly upon this good old mother and she gets about as lively as a middle-aged woman. She attends to all of her household duties, and she has a pleasant, cheerful greeting for all visitors.

he describes, but it is to his credit that he proposes something to suppress the menace of the Ku Klux Klan which is now rampant in many communities in Texas. If his first proposition were enforced against office-holders there would no doubt be numerous vacancies in the offices of Texas much to the credit and honor of the State. Wonder what is going to be the attitude of the Representative of the 77th District towards Mr. Fulger's measures?

The border cities have jumped into a sudden popularity as convention towns. Wonder why? Perhaps the following, printed conspicuously on an invitation to attend the Texas Typothetae State Convention at El Paso April 24 and 25, will afford some inkling of the reason:

"BONE DRY
A Printer there was
And he saved his dough,
Even as you and I;
That he might come out to El Paso
And forget the world is dry."
—Tipling.
Oh! my! Has anyone a pair of walking shoes to lend?
—oo—
"Driver, please go slow. I am very nervous and this is the first time I have ridden in a taxi."
"Lady, you have nothing on me. This is the first time I ever drove one."—The Outlook.

For Torp Liver

"Black-Draught is, in my opinion, the best liver medicine on the market," states Mrs. R. H. Whiteside, of Keota, Okla. She continues: "I had a pain in my chest after eating—tight, uncomfortable feeling—and this was very disagreeable and brought on headache. I was constipated and knew it was indigestion and inactive liver. I began the use of Black-Draught, night and morning, and it sure is splendid and certainly gives relief."

Thedford's BLACK- DRAUGHT

For over seventy years this purely vegetable preparation has been found beneficial by thousands of persons suffering from effects of a torpid, or slow-acting liver. Indigestion, biliousness, colic, coated tongue, dizziness, constipation, bitter taste, sleeplessness, lack of energy, pain in back, puffiness under the eyes—any or all of these symptoms often indicate that there is something the matter with your liver. You can't be too careful about the medicine you take. Be sure that the name, "Thedford's Black-Draught," is on the package. At all druggists.

SAN ANTONIO

TO THE PEOPLE OF MEDINA COUNTY.

April the First is here, and the tick eradication campaign is now on.

To those people who have dreaded the tick, I wish to say that the propaganda that you have heard regarding the tick is entirely unfounded.

On the other hand you will find dipping very beneficial to your cattle, especially when they have ticks, lice, mange or any other kind of skin trouble.

And in regard to making milk cows dry, or checking the flow of milk, there is nothing to that. It may possibly cause your cow to lose some milk the day she is dipped, on account of being kept from her pasture or being kept for an hour or so on dipping.

Milk cows should be handled gently, kept from exciting them, and you will have no bad results from dipping. I also wish to state that dipping will not poison the milk; just rinse the cow's bag before milking, as you probably do anyway, and go on with your milking.

And in regard to butchering cattle that are fresh dipped, it is perfectly safe. They can be butchered the same day they are dipped and you can't tell the difference.

I wish to impress on everyone that you begin dipping now and dip all your cows and calves every 18 days and you will have no trouble in getting rid of the ticks and you will be released from quarantine this fall.

But if you don't do as we ask in this matter you will be held under special quarantine and will have to stay again next year, while people who follow the rules and dip their cattle as directed will be released from dipping.

You will be very much surprised how fast we can get rid of ticks when every body dips on schedule time. Medina county has made the best record of any county I have heard of this year and with good co-operation and good feeling toward each other we can lead the state in this work. I have found the people here very congenial to work with and conditions generally satisfactory, especially since the good rains which will bring grass for the stock.

I expect Medina county to make a record this year and with your help we can do it.

The Livestock Sanitary Commission is highly pleased with your county and expects us to be released from quarantine this fall, and I hope they will not be disappointed.

Yours very truly,
E. J. Murray,
Supervising Inspector for Medina County.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Rohlf of Quihi celebrated their golden wedding last Sunday. Numerous relatives and friends came to congratulate them, and spent the day with them. Mr. Rohlf is 73 years old and Mrs. Rohlf 71 years and both are enjoying good health.

A wedding dinner, lunch and refreshments were served and everybody present enjoyed a good time.

The family consists of seven children: Henry of San Antonio and Amanda of Hondo; Mrs. Louis G. Heyen, Mrs. Fred F. Muennink and Mrs. E. M. Breiten of Hondo, and Mrs. E. M. Gerdes of Warren, Arizona; 22 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

This paper congratulates this hale old couple on their long and happy journey through life, and wishes them many more returns of their wedding anniversary.

A REMARKABLE COW.

Mr. Chas. Graff Sr. furnishes us with a remarkable record of one of his cows. She is eleven years old, and has calved seven times and is the dam of no less than eleven calves, having given birth to twins four times.

The first time she calved there was one, at the second twins were born and at the third one was born. Following is her record for the last three years.

Twins, Feby. 17, 1919.

Twins, Jan. 15, 1920.

One, Feb. 25, 1921.

Twins, Feby. 13, 1922.

The cow is a Poll Durham grade and was raised on Mr. Graff's ranch. He would be interested to know if anyone else can beat this record for a cow.

DEVINE NEWSLETS.

FROM THE DEVINE NEWS.

The nearly two inches of rain this week puts this immediate section in fine shape. The corn is mostly up and looking fine; some being worked out; cotton is mostly planted and some of it up; grass and weeds are coming a little late, but the range will soon be fine. The rains were fine on the onions, while the spinach shipments have been discontinued.

Devine Onion Man Inspects Laredo Fields.
C. H. Melton spent a part of the week inspecting the onion situation at Laredo. He places the yield there at about half normal crop, but thinks the effort to crowd the crop, in too early planting, is the main cause of the splits, doubles and seed stems. He says the onion men are very blue down there, some of the onions being completely ruined by thrip. They had begun harvesting, and already several cars have been shipped. Mr. Melton is afraid the poor quality of their early crop may injure the market, but believes we may expect good prices for 300,000 cars Texas onions, instead of 600,000 as at first predicted. Onions are selling at fabulous prices in the northern cities, but two ship loads of Egyptian onions are expected to arrive in Boston this week and the Egyptian crop is about the only competition in sight now.

Yancey Road Open For Traffic on Cut Off.

Commissioner Roberson announces that the cut-off on the Yancey road has been graded sufficiently for the traffic to go that way now, saving about one mile between Devine and the Hondo bridge. The hill at Zigzag has been cut down and a limestone white road made for a mile or more which is said to be very fine. Henry Hardcastle has been in charge of the work, under the commissioner.

County Supt. W. N. Saathoff of Hondo was in town Thursday looking after schools in this end of the county and shaping up for the county meet.

B. R. Briscoe has broken dirt for his new five-room bungalow on the property west of his mother's home, and Jno. T. Briscoe is making an addition to his bungalow also.

Severe Hail at Zigzag Monday Night.
Messrs. Carnes, Meister, Evans, Morrison, Barron, and others of the Zigzag community, coming to town Tuesday, report a terrible hail, with a big rain Monday night. Corn and gardens up were leveled and all the fruit beaten off the trees; in some places window panes were broken, and roofs damaged; but the hail was not very large and the damage to the building was slight. They were glad to have a fine season and will soon have their stuff coming up again, and it is plenty time on their sandy lands for making good crops; in fact, they feel they were somewhat crowding the season, and now with abundant rains they will soon have their crops up and growing again. The hail injured the melon crop about Wipff, Redus, Brieden and Driscoll farms below town.

We suppose with the opening of court, in a few days, over at Hondo, the local political pot will begin to simmer. So far, we believe there has not been an announcement of any candidates in the county. Many of our neighboring counties have men already out for every office.

Devine's Oldest Citizen Passes Away.
Mr. James C. Stroud, age 89, lacking a few weeks, passed quietly over the bar at 2 p. m. Saturday, at the home of his son, Joe Stroud, in Devine.

He was born in Georgia in May, 1833, but had lived in Texas practically all his long and useful life. He was an old Indian scout in the early days of Texas, and was a Confederate soldier, endured many privations and hardships in the pioneer days of Texas; was a blacksmith for a great many years, last at Big Foot, where he buried both his first and last wife. He leaves three sons, James R. and Joe Stroud of Devine, and Jared Stroud of Lockhart, all of whom learned the trade of their father, and have made it a life calling; and two daughters, Mrs. Henry Gants of Comanche, Texas, and Mrs. J. L. Landrum, who has served with the girls' Economic Department for a number of years, and a number of grandchildren, to mourn his loss. Grandpa Stroud was an old time Methodist class leader, and later in life leaned toward the holiness teachings; was an "Israelite in whom there was no guile," everybody believing in his honesty and sincerity. He was also a life-long Mason. The funeral was conducted from the Methodist church, his pastor, Rev. J. E. Morgan, conducting, others speaking briefly; and the Masons took the remains to Long View Cemetery where they conducted a very impressive ceremony, led by Chaplain F. F. Bledsoe and Acting Worshipful Master D. C. Brown. A large number in about twenty cars went out to the cemetery, where many of his old friends from Big Foot and Lytle had also assembled to honor the memory of this aged citizen, and see his body laid to rest by the side of his two wives and a granddaughter buried there.

When any town or community permits anyone, because of wealth, family relationship or political prestige, to do things which it would not tolerate in a poor man, in the violation of law, that community will live to rue its leniency, and that individual will go from bad to worse until friends will be horrified at his conduct. Not a hundred miles from where we write this, if reports are true, the conduct of a boy whose parents were prominent and influential, was passed unnoticed and grew from bad to worse until the whole county is now shocked at his dastardly deed.

Mrs. C. C. Harris and daughter, Miss Tommie Harris, spent Saturday

with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Brown, Mrs. Harris' parents.

LACOSTE LEDGERETS.

Lacoste and Vicinity Receives Fine Rain.

An electrical storm reached this section early Wednesday morning which was followed by splendid showers of rain during the day, amounting to 2 3-4 inches, which will be especially beneficial to the farmers and stockmen.

While most corn was already up, it needed a good rain, as well as that which wasn't out yet. The oats which had suffered a great deal from lack of moisture will be helped most of all.

The stockmen will soon have plenty of grass for their stock, as grass was nicely started from recent little showers, and will now make fine progress.

Total rainfall that fell here during the past week was 3 1-2 inches.

Misses Louisa Haass and Emma Sauer from Noonan spent Sunday with Conrad Loessberg and family here.

Chas. Suchs and Wm. Scherrer were hauling corn here the past week.

Messrs. Joe Haegelin Jr. and E. B. Haegelin from above Rio Medina were hauling corn here this week.

Messrs. Ariel Haby and Henry Stein from CHF were busy hauling corn here this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Geyer and children from below Peasall, and Mr. and Mrs. George Frey and sons from Spindletop were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Louis Biediger here Sunday.

Mr. Joe Mangold of Pearson has qualified as Deputy Sheriff in order to catch red-handed some of the guys who turn loose their livestock on the irrigated lands between Pearson and Natalia, and who have torn down houses and appropriated to themselves stacks of feed, in many cases cutting down the fences to get to it. We wish the Sheriff's office success and hope that every law-abiding citizen of the county stands behind him.

Frank Schmitt left Wednesday for the Panhandle country with 500 6-year old steers. Frank will fatten those cattle up there and then will drive them overland to Chicago market. He will probably be accompanied by the same cowboys that drove a herd to St. Louis last month.
